INTRODUCTION

We are pleased to announce a workshop on Management of Contrast Reaction & Basic Life Support Training. It will be conducted on 5th March, 2017 at Kokilaben Hospital, Mumbai. This workshop will be useful for radiology post graduate students & practicing radiologists.

Reactions to contrast media are medical emergencies, faced by radiologists. Since reactions are rare, radiologists have little experience managing them. The skills for treating adverse reactions are generally lacking. Our intent is to bridge this gap.

The highlight of this workshop is short lectures & interactive sessions. Basic life support training will be provided by an emergency physician.
